

Doing good. You are committed to positive change.

Do you want to make a positive difference to other people's lives? Or do you want to see a return on your investment, but insist that your assets should be invested in companies and projects that address social and environmental issues? Or perhaps you want to achieve a combination of these things by devoting a portion of your assets and time to charitable causes while ensuring that the rest of your portfolio is invested responsibly and sustainably?

As one of the first banks engaging in philanthropy, our commitment to this subject goes back many years. It's a commitment continually reaffirmed, reinforced and expanded. Building on our track record and experience, UBS has established a single, global team of over 30 in-house experts offering a "one-stop" professional approach to all aspects of philanthropy, strategic charitable giving and values-based investing.

You want a partner who looks beyond the purely financial perspective and understands the full range of issues which motivate you as an individual. Whatever your motivation is, whatever your personal focus, whatever mix of charitable activities and investment products you want in your portfolio, UBS will help you to make a positive, measurable difference. From donations to investments, from strategy to implementation, we offer you solutions which cater to all your personal wishes and aspirations in the philanthropic field.
